Fundamentals of Tissue Engineering and Regenerative Medicine Ulrich Meyer, Thomas Meyer, Jörg Handschel, Hans Peter Wiesmann, 2009-02-11 Fundamentals of Tissue Engineering and Regenerative Medicine provides a complete overview of the state of the art in tissue engineering and regenerative medicine. Tissue engineering has grown tremendously during the past decade. Advances in genetic medicine and stem cell technology have significantly improved the potential to influence cell and tissue performance and have recently expanded the field towards regenerative medicine. In recent years a number of approaches have been used routinely in daily clinical practice others have been introduced in clinical studies and multitudes are in the preclinical testing phase. Because of these developments there is a need to provide comprehensive and detailed information for researchers and clinicians on this rapidly expanding field. This book offers in a single volume the prerequisites of a comprehensive understanding of tissue engineering and regenerative medicine. The book is conceptualized according to a didactic approach: general aspects, social, economic and ethical considerations, basic biological aspects of regenerative medicine, stem cell medicine, biomolecules, genetic engineering, classic methods of tissue engineering, cell tissue organ culture, biotechnological issues, scaffolds, bioreactors, laboratory work and an extended medical discipline oriented approach, review of clinical use in the various medical specialties. The content of the book, written in 68 chapters by the world's leading research and clinical specialists in their discipline, represents therefore the recent intellectual experience and state of this bio-medical field.

The Record of Linji Thomas Yuho Kirchner, 2008-10-31 The Linji lu Record of Linji has been an essential text of Chinese and Japanese Zen Buddhism for nearly a thousand years. A compilation of sermons, statements, and acts attributed to the great Chinese Zen master Linji Yixuan d. 866, it serves as both an authoritative statement of Zen's basic standpoint and a central source of material for Zen koan practice. Scholars study the text for its importance in understanding both Zen thought and East Asian Mahayana doctrine, while Zen practitioners cherish it for its unusual simplicity, directness, and ability to inspire. One of the earliest attempts to translate this important work into English was by Sasaki Shigetsu (1882-1945), a pioneer Zen master in the U.S. and the founder of the First Zen Institute of America. At the time of his death, he entrusted the project to his wife Ruth Fuller Sasaki, who in 1949 moved to Japan and there founded a branch of the First Zen Institute at Daitoku-ji. Mrs. Sasaki determined to produce a definitive translation, assembled a team of talented young scholars, both Japanese and Western, who in the following years retranslated the text in accordance with modern research on Tang dynasty colloquial Chinese. As they worked on the translation, they compiled hundreds of detailed notes explaining every technical term, vernacular expression, and literary reference. One of the team, Yanagida Seizan, later Japan's preeminent Zen historian, produced a lengthy introduction that outlined the emergence of Chinese Zen, presented a biography of Linji, and traced the textual development of the Linji lu. The sudden death of Mrs. Sasaki in 1967 brought the nearly completed project to a halt. An abbreviated version of the book was published in 1975, but neither this nor any other English translations that subsequently appeared contain the type of detailed historical, linguistic, and doctrinal annotation that was central to Mrs. Sasaki's plan. The materials assembled by Mrs. Sasaki and her team are finally available in the present edition of the Record of Linji. Chinese readings have been changed to Pinyin, and the translation itself has been revised in line with subsequent research by Iriya Yoshitaka and Yanagida Seizan, the scholars who advised Mrs. Sasaki. The notes, nearly six hundred in all, are almost entirely based on primary sources and thus retain their value despite the nearly forty years since their preparation. They provide a rich context for Linji's teachings, supplying a wealth of information on Tang colloquial expressions, Buddhist thought, and Zen history, much of which is unavailable anywhere else in English. This revised edition of the Record of Linji is certain to be of great value to Buddhist scholars, Zen practitioners, and readers interested in Asian Buddhism.

The Conservation of Decorated Surfaces on Earthen Architecture Leslie Rainer, Angelyn Bass Rivera, 2006 For millennia, people of all cultures have decorated the surfaces of their domestic, religious, and public buildings. Earthen architecture, in particular, has been and continues to be a common ground for surface decoration, such as paintings, sculpted bas-relief, and ornamental plasterwork. This volume explores the complex issues associated with preserving these surfaces. Case studies from Asia, Europe, Africa, the Middle East, and the Americas are presented. The publication is the result of a colloquium held in 2004 at Mesa Verde National Park, Colorado, co-organized by the Getty Conservation Institute (GCI) and the National Park Service (NPS). The meeting brought together fifty-five conservators, cultural resource managers, materials scientists, engineers, architects, archaeologists, anthropologists, and artists from eleven countries. Divided into four themes—Archaeological Sites, Museum Practice, Historic Buildings, and Living Traditions—the papers examine the conservation of decorated surfaces on earthen architecture within these different contexts.

Gilded Age Ivan Franceschini,Nicholas Loubere,2018-04-01 According to the Chinese zodiac 2017 was the year of the fire rooster an animal often associated with the mythical fenghuang a magnificently beautiful bird whose appearance is believed to mark the beginning of a new era of peaceful flourishing Considering the auspicious symbolism surrounding the fenghuang it is fitting that on 18 October 2017 President Xi Jinping took to the stage of the Nineteenth Party Congress to proclaim the beginning of a new era for Chinese socialism However in spite of such ecumenical proclamations it became immediately evident that not all in China would be welcome to reap the rewards promised by the authorities Migrant workers for one remain disposable Lawyers activists and even ordinary citizens who dare to express critical views also hardly find a place in Xi s brave new world This Yearbook traces the stark new gilded age inaugurated by the Chinese Communist Party It does so through a collection of more than 40 original essays on labour civil society and human rights in China and beyond penned by leading scholars and practitioners from around the world

Military Inc Ayesha Siddiq-Agha, 2017 Pakistan is a strategic ally of the US in the war on terror. It is the third largest recipient of US aid in the world. Yet Pakistan is a state run by its army and intelligence service. Operating in the shadows, Pakistan's military industrial complex owns and controls swathes of the economic and political landscape of the country. Military Inc dares to illuminate the military as an oppressive holding company possessing not just security related businesses but also hotels, shopping malls, insurance companies, banks, farms, and even an airline. The result is a deeply undemocratic society where money is funnelled towards the military's economic enterprises, leaving those in need of it impoverished and effectively disenfranchised. With an empirical richness and a view to Pakistan's recent history, Ayesha Siddiq offers a detailed and powerful case study of a global phenomenon: corruption, hollow economic growth, and elitism. This new edition includes a chapter on the recent developments of the military's foray into the media and a new preface.
